Best. Monitor. EVAR.

I think anyone who's ever written a client/server architected program has either basked in the glory of, or pined away for, a dual monitor set up. I know that since I have had dual monitors, I just can't go back. It's just too sweet.

This monitor however, would put all that to shame. If you were ever writing a server/client/client/client/client/client program, then this is the monitor for you :)
