

Chixdiggit!

One of my favourite bands, Chixdiggit!, is playing in Halifax tomorrow (Friday) night at Stage 9. As good as they are on record, they are even better live, so I suggest that anyone who can check them out should do just that.

As for Stage 9, I'm still trying to get a feel for it. I've only really been there once. Anyone else have a good/bad experience there?

Update! 8/14 17:27

Anyone who missed this one should be sorry. This was probably the best show I've attended all year. It was the non-stop rockfest that I've come to expect from Chixdiggit. The sheer energy that these guys put out on stage could power a small city, I'm sure of it. "Let's hear it for Kevin on guitar! Let's hear it for the audience, come on audience! Let's hear it for Halifax." Every song is a love song and you can tell they mean every word.

But the best news was that they announced that Chixdiggit will be coming out with a new album and that it'll hopefully be in stores by the spring.

Originally posted on Thursday, 2004-08-12 at 16:44:28.

Revision #1

Created 1 February 2022 17:54:07 by Steve Dinn

Updated 1 February 2022 17:54:07 by Steve Dinn