

Remembrance Day

If any of you guys are planning to be at a Remembrance Day ceremony, maybe we could meet there. I'm planning to be at the ceremony at the Grand Parade in downtown Halifax. I generally get there around 10:15 or so, to try and secure a parking spot and get a coffee beforehand :) If you're interested, lets meet at the Tim Hortons on Barrington and Sackville Streets at 10:30.

I think that Remembrance Day is one of, if not the most, important holiday that we, as Canadians, can celebrate. It is completely independant of religion, and truly, if it were not for the things we remember on Remembrance Day, we would probably not have the freedom of religion that we enjoy today.

Originally posted on Monday, 2003-11-10 at 11:38:24.

Revision #1

Created 1 February 2022 17:57:07 by Steve Dinn

Updated 1 February 2022 17:57:07 by Steve Dinn